Summary

I am a 24 year old woman from Norway, who studies fashion design in Rotterdam, in the Netherlands and I am looking for an internship. I am a creative, conscientious person with good communication and collaboration skills and high ambitions. I am good at familiarizing myself with new areas, and I work hard to solve tasks in the best possible way.

About me

I am a very positive person, I am always in a good mood and it is very important to me to lift the people around me up. I have learned that when I work hard for my goals, it pays off and that motivates me. This has always been important to me in school and work context. I would say I am a perfectionist and always make sure that everything I do is done in the best way possible. All my experience in theater has taught me a lot of important things, such as how important it is to collaborate with others to achieve good results together. This means that I am very welcoming with new people, and can work well with all colleagues. My experience in customer service has made me good at handling challenges encountered in the industry.
